PSAT Testing Information

The Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) is a program cosponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). It's a standardized test that provides firsthand practice for the SAT®. It also gives you a chance to enter NMSC scholarship programs and gain access to college and career planning tools.

PSAT TEST is scheduled for Wednesday, October 13th in the HS Library for any Junior who would like to take the test. Also the top ten percent of the sophomore class is also eligible to take the test if they wish to pay the $13 dollar fee (based on seat availability). Juniors get first seating priority for this test. However, sophomores can gain experience and practice their test taking skills a year prior to their junior year test. Contact Mrs. Swanson if you would like to take the test. Sophomores must be invited to take the test by Mrs. Swanson.

The PSAT/NMSQT measures:

- Critical reading skills
- Math problem-solving skills
- Writing skills

You have developed these skills over many years, both in and out of school. This test doesn't require you to recall specific facts from your classes.

The most common reasons for taking the PSAT/NMSQT are to:

- Receive feedback on your strengths and weaknesses on skills necessary for college study. You can then focus your preparation on those areas that could most benefit from additional study or practice.
- See how your performance on an admissions test might compare with that of others applying to college.
- Enter the competition for scholarships from NMSC (grade 11).
- Help prepare for the SAT. You can become familiar with the kinds of questions and the exact directions you will see on the SAT.

A new school year is a time of excitement and anticipation. I certainly look forward to meeting students in the hallways, classrooms and at different outside events. As I look forward to a new school year, I want to mention a few important items that happened over the summer months.

Intervention Work

I would like to applaud everyone who helped plan the intervention schedules for our students. I firmly believe that if we unite as a community and provide targeted assistance that student achievement will rise. This assistance with positive relationship building will create a positive culture where our students can improve academically.

The intervention schedule will challenge all of us to do things differently. Our school must do things differently if we are to get different results. I truly believe that if we all commit to supporting this intervention work, good things will happen for our students.

Summer Maintenance and Cleaning

A big thank you to the janitors who do a tremendous amount of work during the summer months. Learning improves when the buildings are clean and inviting. If you see a janitor, let them know you appreciate their hard work.

There will be a number of new faces at our school this year. Please take a moment and welcome them to Cardinal. I believe that the new additions will strengthen our school programs. In closing, remember to support the Comets this fall. Together, we can make the 2010-2011 school year a success.

Sincerely, Joel Pedersen, Superintendent

School is now underway. Students are working hard in practice and setting their sights on a winning season. There is so much to celebrate at Cardinal. I would like to introduce/reacquaint everyone with our athletic webpage, a site that highlights our student athletes. This month I have put my newsletter on the athletic webpage for all to visit and read. Included in the newsletter will be information about our fall teams and more news regarding the September 19th A-Club Golf Tournament for those of you who are wanting to participate. While you are on the site you can also access fall schedules and see upcoming events. There are past articles, picture galleries and video clips to view from the spring and summer sports in case you haven't had a chance to see them yet.

You access the athletic webpage by clicking on "athletics" when you visit the school's homepage (www.cardinalcomet.com) or you can get there at www.ihigh.gocomets.com. My September article is located under "site news" near the top of the website. I hope you take the time to check out this exciting site this month and throughout the year to stay up-to-date on all of our athletic teams!

Take that which is coming against you and use it to lift you higher.

From the Desk of Elementary Principal Kerry Phillips

The 2010-2011 school year is running full steam ahead. Hopefully, all students are back in the swing of school and have learned the expectations of their new teachers.

The elementary is trying a new six day cycle this year. Due to the rotation provided using this system, the days students have specials such as gym, music, and physical education rotate. This helps because we have more school days off on certain days of the week. If we miss several Fridays and your student has a special class on that day, they fall behind their peers. If we miss a day for any reason, we go to the next numbered day in the cycle. Therefore, if we miss a day due to weather on Monday and that is Day 1, the next day school is in attendance will be Day 2. Teachers will be assisting with this by sending reminders in their weekly newsletter about special classes and the six day cycle.

Students must have the proper footwear to participate in physical education classes. All students are to have a pair of gym shoes to leave at school at all times to better facilitate this rule. If a student does not have the proper shoes to wear in gym, they will have to sit and will not be allowed to participate. It is simply not safe for the student and their fellow classmates when a child does not have the proper footwear to fully support the movement required to take part in physical education activities. Please support us in enforcing this policy to keep our students safe and healthy.

Remember that school will not be in attendance on Monday, September 6th due to Labor Day. Also, remember NWEA MAP testing takes place from September 27th to October 8th. Encourage students to get plenty of rest and to eat a nourishing breakfast each of these days. While this is an excellent habit to practice each day, it is very important during testing to help students to perform to their best ability. School pictures are scheduled for Thursday, September 30th. Thanks for supporting all we do at Cardinal Elementary School. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you ever have any questions or concerns.

Kids Come First at Cardinal Elementary School!

From the Desk of Coach Hill

Dear Comets:

It's football season again! Most of us have been anxiously awaiting this time. It should be one of the real fun times in your life. One of our goals is to make this a fun experience for everyone involved in our program. Your attitude will be the single most important factor in determining if it is fun for you. What the season is going to mean to you, depends on your attitude.

Last year we started a new era of Cardinal football. It is up to us to continue and carry out what we have started. We have added several players and our roster now consists of 39 players. We will have a JV schedule this year, which will help improve each and every one of our skills. It is a good problem to not have enough equipment, which by the way, should be here before our towel game.

This year begins the second chapter of our book that will record the history of the 2010 team. We will go from the beginning of August to the middle of November being a team. It will be a legacy that will become an important part of the Comet athletic tradition for all future teams. As our football program continues to grow, we will see other schools attempting to duplicate things that we do. Imitation is a high form of a compliment.

If we accomplish our goals, we will find that our team did the important things right – we will stay together, we will play together, we will fight to the finish. The coaches are extolling the team concept with signs, slogans, and sermons. Some players have fought it, some bought it, and others don't know what they don't know. We must all buy into this philosophy. TEAM must become The Enthusiastic Aggressive Men of Cardinal Comet football. The most important word in football is team. It must become loyalty. It is
C + C + C + C = C (Character + Conviction + Commitment + Caring = Champions)

We should all be excited and thrilled to have the opportunity to compete on the football field, the class room, and in the community as we represent the 2010 Cardinal Comet Football program.

Until next time, GO COMETS!!!!!!

How to Address Your Concerns

The following information outline the proper steps to take when you have a concern. No matter what the problem is, take your concern there first. Whether in the classroom, on the bus, or on the practice field, the quickest and easiest solution is usually found with the staff member most directly involved. For more information, please contact the Central Office at (641) 652-7531, ext 201.

Steps to take when you have a concern within the Cardinal School System

Step #1

Take your concern to the person closest to the problem.

No matter what the problem is, take your concern there first. Whether in the classroom, on the bus, or on the practice field, the quickest and easiest solution is usually found with the staff member most directly involved.

It's best if you take time to talk with the school personnel regularly, before problems are encountered. Know who your children's teachers are and how they can be contacted. Tell them when things are going well and communicate any concerns you have quickly and openly.

If you call for an appointment to see your child's teachers, why not let them know in advance the general nature of your concern? This gives them the opportunity to ask other staff members for information that might relate to your problem or concern. If a personal visit isn't possible, why not call to state the problem, and during the conversation, offer to call back at a time you both can discuss the situation more in detail.

The concern you or your child faces may be the result of an oversight or a misunderstanding that can easily be corrected once brought to the attention of the staff member most directly involved.

Give them a chance to tackle the problem first.

Step #2

Present your concern to the next level.

The principal at each building is responsible for supervision of staff within that particular building. The director of transportation supervises all school bus drivers. Each one is an example of the next level of school personnel you should contact if the staff member closest to the problem hasn't been able to satisfactorily resolve the difficulty.

Their ability to help will be improved if you share the steps you've already taken with the staff member closest to the problem. Take time to openly share with them the reasons why you feel uncomfortable dealing directly with the person who is closest to the situation.

Supervisory personnel will rarely have access to the information they need to be of immediate assistance and working through them will often require additional time.

Step #3

Talk with the Superintendent of Schools.

Sometimes all the best intentions can't solve a problem. When you believe you've taken the problem to the next level but still haven't achieved a satisfactory outcome, the superintendent of schools is the next place to go.

Part of the Superintendent's job requires attendance at area-wide meetings outside the district. As a consequence, a meeting with the Superintendent will probably require some advance planning.

Step #4

Contact your school board members after other means have been tried.

School board members are elected to represent the interest of all parents and district residents; therefore, you should always feel free to tell them your point of view.

School board members do not, however, have direct authority in day-to-day operations.

All authority is the result of official actions by a majority of the board at meetings open to the public.

The board's primary responsibility is to make policies that guide the school district. Any change in policy requires two readings at two separate public meetings; a procedure that often takes two or more months.

Some policy changes may require substantial public input and consultation with the school district's attorney. These requirements often increase the time required for the board to make a response. So, when should a board member be contacted and what can they do?

When to Contact a Board Member:

- After other means to solve a problem have been tried.
- When a policy is being enforced but you believe it results in bad consequences.
- When you believe a policy isn't being enforced.
- When policies or procedures are not enforced fairly for all.

A board member may take one or all of the following actions:

- Informally discuss the issue with the superintendent or other administrators to consider whether policies or rules would be changed.
- Request that the board review the specific policies that relate to the situation.
- Propose new policies for the board's consideration.

Unfairness, misunderstanding, hurt feelings, and conflicts are experiences common to us all. When children experience these problems at school it causes difficulty not only for the children, but also for parents, and school staff. How to successfully solve problems at school is what this guide is all about.

Junior High / High School

Cardinal High School England/Paris Trip

Day 1-2

We had an overnight flight, with very little sleep, across the Atlantic. We arrived in London about noon and our bus broke down on the way to the hotel. We started our adventure a little late with a walking tour to Trafalgar Square and Leicester Square.

Day 3

We took a guided sightseeing tour of London to see Piccadilly Circus, Houses of Parliament, the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, and a tour of Windsor Castle. That evening we attended a theatre production of "Nunsense" in the theatre district of London.

Day 4

We took the excursion to Stonehenge and Bath. Stonehenge was just a group of stones in a field, old, but not that exciting. Bath has the ancient ruins of the Roman Baths and was very interesting. We had some shopping time in London that evening.

Day 5

We visited the Tower of London, took a boat trip to Greenwich, crossed the Prime Meridian, and spent time in the center of London.

Day 6

We took the excursion to Oxford University and Stratford-Upon-Avon, where Shakespeare was born, raised and died. We were able to see his grave and the home where he grew up. Mrs. Meyer was enthralled!

Day 7

We took the train under the English Channel to Paris. We had a guided sightseeing tour of Paris on a bus, followed by a walking tour and shopping.

Day 8

We had a walking tour of Paris, a trip to Notre Dame and finishing the day with a boat trip on the Thames and a visit to the top of the Eiffel Tower.

Day 9

We flew from Paris to Chicago, only to be informed that all flights to Iowa were canceled due to the weather in Iowa. We hired a bus and drove to the school, arriving there at midnight.
